Introduction to the SPLendid Index of End Users

Building Sustainable Networks for Inclusive Language Education

The SPLendid project (Supporting foreign Language LEarNing for stuDents with Disabilities) represents a groundbreaking 36-month Erasmus+ initiative bringing together partners from five European countries to transform foreign language education for students with diverse learning needs. At its core, SPLendid operates on a fundamental premise: that inclusive education is not about retrofitting accommodations, but about designing learning experiences that are accessible and meaningful from the ground up.

Why This Index Matters

This Index of End Users serves as more than a directory—it is the foundation for sustained collaboration and knowledge exchange beyond our project's completion in August 2025. By connecting associations, educational institutions, language teachers, special educators, parents, and policymakers across Europe, we create an enduring network committed to making language learning accessible to all students, regardless of their visual, hearing, mobility, or learning challenges.

What We've Created Together

Through rigorous research involving 95 students across four countries, evidence-based practice collections, training sessions with hundreds of educators, and the development of practical resources including our Teachers' Handbook, educational video game, and MOOC, SPLendid has demonstrated that students with diverse needs maintain strong motivation for language learning—but require systemic support to overcome engagement barriers. Our findings reveal a critical "willingness-participation gap" that can be bridged through Universal Design for Learning principles and Task-Based Language Teaching approaches.

Your Role in Our Collective Impact

The organizations, institutions, and individuals listed in this Index represent the wider educational ecosystem essential for transforming research into lasting practice. Everyone is welcomed and encouraged to actively participate:

- Access and utilize our freely available resources: the Collection of Best Practices in EFL per Disability & CEFR level, the Teachers' Handbook, educational video game, and MOOC
- Contribute your expertise to our Open Educational Repository (OER) "Languages for ALL"—this platform is designed for collective knowledge-building. Teachers, educators, parents, trainers, mentors, associations, and all stakeholders are invited to upload and share:

- Educational scenarios and lesson plans that embrace diversity
- Videos, audio materials, and multimedia resources

- Practices and adaptations for students with any type of disability
- Materials for language learning AND other subjects across all educational sectors (formal education, youth work, vocational training, adult education)
- Resources that you have found effective in creating inclusive learning environments

Following open publishing principles, any registered user can download, use, adapt, translate, revise, remix, and retain materials from the OER—and contribute their own innovations back to the community.

- Collaborate with fellow stakeholders to adapt and implement SPLendid's approaches in your contexts
- Disseminate project findings through your networks, publications, and professional communities
- Continue the dialogue on inclusive language education, ensuring student voices remain central to policy and practice

A Living Resource for Sustainable Change

This Index will remain accessible beyond the project's lifetime, serving as a dynamic resource for connecting practitioners, researchers, and advocates committed to educational equity. By facilitating ongoing exchange of practices, collaborative problem-solving, and mutual support, we strengthen the collective capacity to make language learning—and indeed all education—truly inclusive.

Sustainability Through Community

SPLendid's legacy depends not on project deliverables alone, but on the active engagement of stakeholders who recognize that multilingualism is a right, not a privilege. Whether you are a teacher seeking practical strategies, a parent advocating for your child, an association supporting community members, or a policymaker shaping educational frameworks, your participation in this network amplifies our collective impact.

Together, we move from project outputs to sustained educational transformation—ensuring that every student with diverse learning needs has equitable access to the linguistic, cognitive, and social benefits of foreign language learning.
